Machinery exhibitor comments

"The visitor flow is high, and we managed to meet some potential customers in the first two days. Both new and existing buyers came to visit our booth. This is an important event for us to showcase our new applications to new customers.

Being an overseas brands we feel an advantage exhibiting here, as customers are very interested in our products. Taking quality into consideration, Chinese customers are keen on sourcing from European companies. China is a huge market that provides a lot of opportunities for different companies."
